This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

CATALOGUE

PUBLIC LIBRARY

OF THE

CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON:
PRINTED BY JOHN WILSON & SON,
22, School Street.
1854.

ASTOR

NOTICE.

THE following Catalogue lays no claim to bibliographical merit of any sort. It is merely a condensed Index to the contents of the Public Library, giving the title of each book only once, and having no object but to render all the books useful. The collection is still small, and in every department imperfect. It consists almost exclusively of works in the English language, and chiefly of such as will be most widely interesting and instructive. But it is fast increasing, especially in the divisions devoted to the mechanic arts and to practical science; and, in time, we doubt not that it will become, through the munificence of its patrons, not less than from the resources of the city, such a library in all languages and in all departments of human knowledge as the inhabitants of Boston ought to have. And we venture to predict, that they will so use it as to increase the respectability, the prosperity, and the moral and religious worth, of a community that rests to a remarkable degree for its best distinctions on its free schools and the general education of its people.

Meantime the condition of the Institution justifies its Trustees in asking suggestions on the subject of such books as are most pressingly wanted, since they are anxious to select for early acquisition those that will be read first, oftenest, and with the most permanent satisfaction and benefit. Occasionally — perhaps frequently — books that should certainly be in the Library will not be found on the Catalogue. On inquiry, it may be learned that many of them have been ordered, and are not yet received; but it may be hoped that this circumstance will not prevent any person who may happen urgently to need one, from giving notice that it is wanted. Indeed, it is probable that many desirable works have been overlooked, and it is certain that many have been omitted, from the want of means as yet to purchase all that the Library should possess, with as little delay as possible.

Many deficiencies will, we feel sure, be supplied by gifts of books that will thus be known to be wanting. This, in fact, has been the case already. For not a few persons among us have works on their shelves which are no longer interesting to them, and yet which are important to many others. Contributions, therefore, — some of them of great value, and all welcome, — have frequently been sent to the Public Library. If those who have works that have ceased to be of consequence to them will continue to remember that a book is never so much in the way of its duty as it is when it is in use, they may, with little or no sacrifice to themselves, easily become efficient benefactors to the public, by sending these unused books to the Public Library, where they will be accessible to many who are little likely to get them in any other way. Indeed, as we suppose that nobody ever heard it suggested that a public library anywhere had done any thing but good, so those who contribute to increase and build up such an institution will necessarily be counted among the truest and surest friends of progress in whatever is deemed, by a community like ours, most worthy to be sought.

It will be noticed that duplicates of the same work are rare in the present Catalogue; and, where they occur, one copy has often been presented to the Library. But their number will be largely increased, as experience may indicate what books are oftenest asked for.

The books marked with an asterisk are reserved for reference and use in the Reading Room, and are not open to general circulation; but such of them as relate to the science of medicine may be taken out by persons who professionally study or practise the healing art, and were, in fact, most of them, given expressly for this purpose.

The whole number of volumes in the Library somewhat exceeds twelve thousand.

Several of the Transactions of learned Societies contained in the preceding list, having not yet been published for the year 1853, are, of course, not received; but they will be found in their appropriate places, as soon as they come to hand.

A considerable number of books have been received during the printing of this Catalogue, which could not be entered in it; and, from month to month, others will be added. These will appear in interleaved copies of the Catalogue, to be found on the tables of the Library.
